If you think deleting evidence is going to save you... think again.
@TrollMediaGroup went from 858 videos to 64 in just three days.

No takedown notice.
No lawsuit.
Not even a warning.

Just a "frivolous lawsuit" that will get laughed out of Court. 3,000+ troll videos have been deleted in the past 2 weeks...

But, but, but...it's Fair Use....

The Trolls are scared...
Who is next? Hint, a new lawsuit is dropping this weekend.

Deleting the evidence won't erase the intent let's check the WayBack Machine...
We see you.
And so will the Court.

Eventually, I'm gonna sue every single channel that infringes on every single video I ever published.

I normally don't do videos like this, but it is well deserved. Randall S. Newman, the DMCA Lawyer, attacked me with defamatory comments and videos. Patrick admits that as of 2014, that he never tried a case before the jury, which is about 17 years after being admitted! I am calling out his lies, gaslighting or false opinions about me. Because he is attack

@TheDMCALawyer It means you were already watching frauditor videos and support them 🤢 making you a lenslicker on top of being an ambulance chaser or in this case, a sociopathic mental patient chaser

Yes it's relevant. Did you cross over any ethical or legal rules in contacting them?
Inquiring minds need to know.

- @TheDMCALawyer 3 days ago: @DrDaveFrauditor Terminator Why you ask? Is it relevant to something? Why do you keep saying that in videos? Silly Dave.
You want to come on live with DMA and I on Sunday? The last one was fun.
